Message from Mrs Barnard

We are turning World Book Day in to World Book Week starting on Monday 27th February. Attached to this Newsletter is a letter from Miss Bettinson detailing all the events and activities we have planned. We are all very much looking forward to it.

Glebeland played host to children from Barnby School for a Hockey match on Thursday. The match was very exciting and played in a friendly manner with emerging the Glebeland were the winners by 4 goals to nil

On Wednesday group of four Year 6 pupils – Ivi, Sam K, Jess R and Jack S travelled to Framlingham College as part of a Borders swimming team comprising children from Winterton, Glebeland and Barnby. All four of the children won their individual races and the borders team were placed 4th place overall.

Class News

Red Kites

This term in PE, Red Kite Class have been looking at carnival dance. We have been identifying dance moves associated with carnival dance. We have also been working collaboratively with partners to create dances we associate with carnival. We also looked at other themes including the seasons.

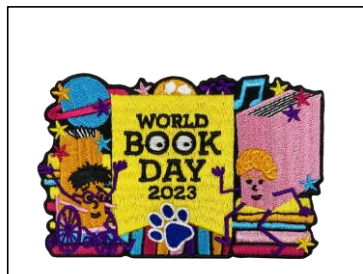

Woodpeckers

As part of Childrens mental health week children in Woodpecker class have been discussing 'Our important people', We read the story The Invisible String and then thought about the connections that we have in Woodpecker class. We made a display to remind us all of our importance to one another!

After half term, children in Woodpecker class will be holding a toy swap shop as part of their social action work around helping the community. Please bring your toys (more information on the letter) into school on Tuesday 21st February.

World Book Day - Thursday 2nd March

Staff and pupils at Glebeland Primary school are very excited to announce that we will be turning World Book day into World Book week! Don't forget the Learning Pi task that has been set in order to help you to create your costumes over Half term - there will be certificates for the best dressed! Please see separate letter containing other information for parents.

Robins

This week in PE was Robins final week of learning ball skills. They brought all of their ball control skills together to roll, push and bounce their balls around the obstacle course.

Starlings

This week, in PE, Starling class concluded their unit on dance. We discussed the different seasons and what we notice about them. For instance, in Summer you might eat ice cream, in Spring the flowers bloom, in Autumn the leaves fall and in Winter it gets frosty. Class 3 turned their thoughts and ideas into movements which represent the different features of each season. Everyone worked hard in their groups to create four sharp, clear movements that were in time to the music. Each week, we looked at a different season. This week, we put all of our choreography together and had one big routine!
